Meanwell Power Supply Warranty Statement

The Meanwell power supplies sold on this website are very reliable and they have an excellent service history. Unfortunately we have several customers who have experienced failures. It has also come to our attention that these failures were caused by improper installation. The power supplies require proper ventilation for reliable long term service.

Meanwell offers a 1 year warranty for parts and labor on their products. If you purchase the power supply from us it does not create a warranty contract/agreement between you and Broadcast Concepts Inc. If your power supply fails for any reason contact Meanwell and request a return authorization. Broadcast Concepts Inc does not provide warranty service, refunds or exchanges on power supplies. All power supply sales are final.

Please consider these terms before making your purchase.
